Daily History

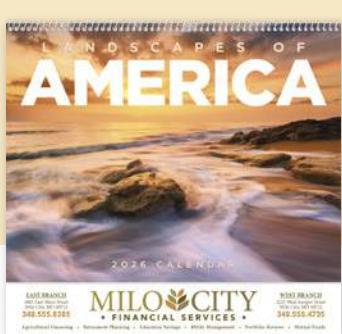

365 DAYS OF INTERESTING HISTORICAL FACTS → 2026 EDITION ↗

250th Anniversary of the Declaration Signing

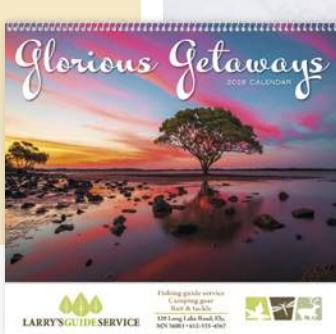

On July 4, 1776, the Continental Congress issued the Declaration of Independence, severing political ties between the 13 American colonies and Great Britain. This pivotal document outlined colonists' motivations for independence, rallying troops, winning allies, and announcing a new nation. The declaration facilitated a crucial alliance with France in the war against Great Britain. On this 250th anniversary, we reflect on the signatories' courage on August 2, 1776, in the Pennsylvania State House. The solemn atmosphere acknowledged the gravity of signing what some believed were their own death warrants—an act of high treason against the British Crown. The 250th anniversary commemorates not just a declaration but also the sacrifice and determination of those who forged a nation.

Spiral Binding

The classic look of spiral binding uses a single wire coiled through the calendar to hold it together.

Window Ad

A window ad prints in the middle of the calendar, putting your message at the center of attention.

Dateblock Overprint

Add copy to any calendar date to connect customers to special company events, celebrations, or other noteworthy information.

Border Color

A signature company color can be the calendar's accent color to bring out the brand even more.

Some options are only available on select products.

Stapled Binding

Choose stapled binding, also called saddle stitching, for an economical version of a calendar that is also perfect for direct mail.

Drop Ad

The last page of the calendar is longer than the grid and drops down below so your ad can be seen all year.

Personalization

Personalize each calendar to connect with customers on a first-name basis.

Twin Loop Binding

This binding uses two wires crimped closed to allow the calendar to be flat on a wall or on a desk.

Backmount

The last page of the calendar is made of stiffer material to stand up to daily wear and tear. It has places for notes, phone numbers, and your ad at the very bottom.
